Dear Mr. President:

The diverse group of undersigned construction and business associations appreciates efforts by the Trump administration to address the construction industry's skilled labor shortage and America's need for infrastructure improvements.

This is a serious challenge for the industry and the country's economic interests, which is why it is imperative to cut regulations that stand in the way of creating career pathways into the construction industry and eliminate policies that discourage the vast majority of qualified contractors and their skilled employees from competing for taxpayer-funded construction projects.

As you are aware, on Feb. 6, 2009, President Obama signed Executive Order 13502, which encourages federal agencies, on a case-by-case basis, to require project labor agreements on federal construction projects exceeding $25 million in total value and permits states and localities to mandate PLAs on federally assisted projects.¹

A PLA is a jobsite-specific collective bargaining agreement unique to the construction industry that typically requires companies to agree to recognize unions as the representatives of their employees on that job, use the union hiring hall to obtain most or all construction labor, exclusively hire apprentices from union programs, follow union work rules, and pay into union benefit and multi-employer pension plans that nonunion employees will be unlikely to access. This forces employers to pay "double benefits" into existing plans and union plans and places firms opposed to these costly provisions at a significant competitive disadvantage. In addition, PLAs typically force construction workers to pay union dues and/or join a union if they want to receive union benefits and work on a PLA project.

When mandated by government agencies, PLAs can interfere with existing union collective bargaining agreements. In addition, they unfairly discourage competition from quality nonunion contractors and their employees, who comprise 87.2

reduce costs, provide value for taxpayers and allow all Americans to work on construction projects in their own communities built with their own tax dollars.

We respectfully request that you rescind President Obama's Executive Order 13502 and replace it with Executive Orders 13202 and 13208.⁴ This critical reform will prevent federal agencies and state and local government recipients of federal assistance from requiring contractors to sign an anti-competitive and costly PLA as a condition of winning a federal or federally assisted construction contract. Executive Orders 13202 and 13208 and similar policies have already been upheld in the highest courts of the land and would continue to allow federal agencies to award contracts to contractors that voluntarily enter into PLAs without government interference, an industry practice permitted by the National Labor Relations Act. A total of 24 states have passed similar measures allowing the free market—not the government—to determine if a PLA is appropriate for a construction project.

The Trump administration can create the conditions to make America great again by rescinding President Obama's failed policy and replacing it with a common-sense approach that encourages fair and robust competition and benefits all Americans.

We would welcome an opportunity to speak with the Office of White House Policy to discuss this issue in greater detail. We look forward to working with your administration and Congress as we continue to advocate for infrastructure improvements and enact critical regulatory reforms to build a stronger America together.
